The Gender Education Development Lab of the Moscow State University invites Dr. Svetlana Aslanyan, President of CDCS, to conduct her research on Post-Communist Armenia: Women and Women's Movement in the Civil Society using the facilities of the Laboratory for the period from June 1, 2000 to June 15 2000. The Laboratory can provide Dr. Aslanyan with an office, a computer, lodging (off-campus), etc. She will be eligible to use the library of the Gender Education Development Lab.

Dr. Aslanyan is supposed to contribute into the research on Gender in Societies in Transition to be conducted by the Laboratory. The research will focus on the problems women face in the societies in transition (Russia and the CIS countries).

The Laboratory exists since 1996 and represents an independent research unit within the Department of Pedagogic Education of the Moscow State University.
